VEGETINE

Is My Family Medicine;

I WISH NO OTHER.

Mrs. H. R. STEVENS. PROVIDENCE April ... 1876.

Dear Sir,—When I was about eight years of age a humor broke out upon me, which my mother tried to cure by giving me herb-teas and all other such remedies as she knew of, but it continued to grow worse, until finally she consulted a physician, and he said I had the Salt Rheum, and doctored me for that complaint. He relieved me some, but said I could not be permanently cured, as the disease originated in the blood. I remained a great sufferer for several years, until I heard of and consulted a physician who said I had the Scrofulous Humor and if I would allow him to doctor me he could cure me. I did so, and he commenced healing up my sores and succeeded in effecting an external cure, but in a short time the disease appeared again in a worse form than ever, as Cancerous Humor upon my lungs, throat and head. I suffered the most ... pain, and there seemed to be no remedy, and my friends thought I must soon die, when my attention was called, while reading a newspaper, to a Vegetine testimonial of Mrs Waterhouse, No 364 Athens Street, South Boston, and formerly residing in South Boston, and being personally acquainted with her, and knowing her former feeble health, I concluded I would try the Vegetine. After I had taken a few bottles it seemed to force the sores out of my system. I had running sores in my ears which for a time were very painful, but I continued to take the Vegetine until I had taken about twenty-five bottles, my health improving all the time from the commencement of the first bottle, and the sores to heal. I commenced taking the Vegetine in 1872 and continued its constant use for six months. At the present time my health is better than it ever has been since I was a child. The Vegetine is what helped me, and I most cordially recommend it to all sufferers especially my friends. I had been a sufferer for over thirty years and until I used the Vegetine I found no remedy. Now I use it as my family medicine, and wish no other.

Mrs H. C. COOPER, No 1 Joy Street, Providence, R. I.

Vegetine has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

Vegetine.

The range of disorders which yield to the influence of this medicine, and the number of defined diseases which it never fails to cure are greater than any other single medicine has hitherto been even recommended for by any other than the proprietors of some quack nostrum. These diseases are Scrofula and all Eruptive Diseases and Tumors, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia and Spinal Complaints and all inflammatory symptoms, Ulcers all Syphilitic diseases, Kidney and Bladder diseases, Dropsy, the whole train of painful disorders which so generally afflict American women, and which carry annually thousands of them to premature graves, Dyspepsia, that universal curse of American manhood—Heartburn, Piles, Constipation, Nervousness, inability to sleep and impure blood.

This is a formidable list of human ailments for any single medicine to successfully attack, and it is not probable that any one article before the public has power to cure the quarter of them except Vegetine. It lays the axe at the root of the tree of disease by first eliminating every impurity from the blood, promoting the secretions, opening the pores—the great escape-valves of the system—invigorating the liver to its full and natural action, cleansing the stomach and strengthening digestion. This much accomplished, the speedy and the permanent cure of not only the diseases we have enumerated but likewise the whole train of chronic and constitutional disorders, is certain to follow. This is precisely what Vegetine does, and it does it so quickly and so easily that it is an accomplished fact almost before the patient is aware of it himself.

FASHION NOTES

MATERIALS PRICES AND STYLES

Fashion seems to have considered durability comfort and convenience as essential qualities of women's toilets for the coming season. Everything from the bonnet to the shoes has a sensible or solid effect, a real un-American and therefore English aspect. Colors are dark and serviceable, materials durable, rough and lasting, shoes broad and strong with sensible heels. It is quite a pleasure to visit the show rooms of fashionable milliners and dressmakers just now, for there are many novelties on view. Outdoor costumes are in greater demand at present than any other style of toilet, and the choice of material is restricted to cashmere and bourrette cloth in the majority of cases. In colors there is a great variety of beautiful shades of navy blue, brown and violet and so mixed and woven in with contrasts of colors in tufts and brocade figures that the effect is pleasing. Camel's hair is a highly serviceable goods, and this together with silk will form leading materials demanded for Winter dresses.

Prices of dress goods are lower this season than they have been for many years. Ladies who do not care for the most showy novelties such as the rough-threaded bourrettes and neiguese stuffs, select the fine soft cashmeres that are sold in excellent qualities at the popular price of $1 per yard, while very good colored cashmeres are sold as low as 75 cents and black may be bought for 50 cents. If care is taken in the selection of the color and in its trimmings plain cashmere dresses can be made very pretty. Thus the darkest shades of green and blue tints are made with a basque and over-skirt merely piped on the edge with silk, and ornamented with green silk bows that show cardinal or else bronze facings. The dark stone-colored or blue gray cashmeres are faced with silk of the same shade. Navy blue is not so popular for such suits as it was last year. Plum-color is in favor again especially with facings of pale blue or of buff. Olive, bronze and moss green are also brightened with cream-color and blue. There are excellent twilled stuffs wiry and strong yet every thread of wool, for 65 or 70 cents a yard, these are chosen in very dark gray or seal brown shades or in the gayer reddish maroon for serviceable suits for morning, they are twenty-seven inches wide, from eighteen to twenty yards are required. When only an over dress is needed to wear with black or with any dark silk skirt double-width stuffs are chosen, and from four to five yards is used. For these are very pretty American goods all wool, with smooth grounds on which are squares or dashes of raised thread that give very stylish effects, and cost only $1 a yard. For $1 25 to $1 50 are matelasse and basketwoven goods of excellent quality in all the newest shades of color.

Black faille dresses which still take the principal rôle in the feminine toilette are seldom seen entirely black. They are brightened with colored trimmings and with coarse white lace or fine guipure. For these trimmings are used principally soft and fashionable shades, such as moss green, réséda green, peacock green above all, chamois sometimes also old blue and navy blue. The trimmings are composed of silk fringe mixed with clair de lune beads, pipings, bows, and linings for ruches and flounces. The white lace is set on smooth on the sleeves, pocket and the corsage and edged with one of the foregoing shades produces on the black ground an effect at the same time bright and tasteful.

All dark shades of green are popular this season and the eye is surprised by the pleasing effects which are produced by contrasts of lighter colors.

For street and morning dresses the color in most favor this season is green in all possible shades as for instance, olive bronze reseda, sorrel, sage lily-of the valley, etc.

Young ladies wear waists which have a yoke and plaits at the back, while the front is designed with a basque laid in two or three side plaits through the centre with a vest intervening. This style is seen extensively in plain cashmeres or smooth surface suitings combined with silk.

Basques for the street are modeled with vests, and a costume of heavy wool material, with short skirt, just escaping the ground, simple round overskirt and basque, and vest of the same, the entire dress being bound with worsted braid and ornamented with handsome buttons, is now considered a superior style for young ladies.

The novelties of the season are found in small details, and not in general outlines, basque bodices with belts, high bodices with yokes, and low bodices with points are all recent innovations.—The Queen.

It has been estimated that the professing Christians of America expend at least twenty five millions of dollars annually for tobacco, while the total of all their contributions for the support of churches, Sunday-schools, missions, Bible and tract societies is less than seven million dollars.

A LOAFER'S PARADISE.—The Ohio Journal publishes a letter from Gen. Comly, in which Honolulu is sketched with a free and easy hand, as a loafer's paradise. The natives, he writes, are the most careless, improvident, laughter-loving people in the world. They have no winter to lay up for—even the proverbial rainy day needs nothing there; so they dance and sing, and deck themselves with garlands, all the day long. Men go here with great garlands of the loveliest flowers and green leaves hanging in festoons around the neck and shoulders, down to the body, around the hat, everywhere. These men are not the fops and loafers of the race, but the hard-working fellows—the herdsmen, the hackmen, even the draymen, go about adorned in the most exquisite taste, with flowers and leaves wreathed into forms of beauty, which come to an American like a revelation in art. They have no wealth—nothing that would satisfy an American—but they are always laughing, singing, playing jewsharps or making floral wreaths. The Hawaiian knows that there will never be a winter's day to provide for, and that it will always be the same—yesterday, to-day, and forever.

More applications for aid have been made to the overseers of the poor at Calais this season so far, than has been made for years, and there are now double that number being aided by the city and benevolent societies than last season, especially among the laboring class; this shows that business must have been duller during the past season than formerly.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICANS

[From the Concord Monitor.]

We can understand why guerrilla sheets like the Boston Herald—a feeble imitation of the Springfield Republican—or the Boston Globe, a cross between the two, should desire to give our State platform a construction best calculated to create division in the Republican ranks of New Hampshire, for their mission is to aid any and all measures and practices which have their origin in the lowest and the most corrupt elements of society; but when a Republican sheet like the Boston Journal which in times past rendered valiant service to the cause of good government in our State, gives that platform a construction which would, if warranted, insure and make inevitable the defeat of our party next March, we are pained beyond expression. It is not our purpose, however, to devote much space to these attacks in the rear, as we have more important work at the front.

But we desire, once for all, to say that there are thousands on thousands of earnest and consistent Republicans in New Hampshire who never have and never will indorse the surrender of the legal State governments in Louisiana and South Carolina over to rebel mobs, never have and never will indorse the declaration that the rebels in arms against the nation fought heroically for their convictions and principles, and are therefore to be respected for their treason, never have and never will indorse the declaration that there is no moral distinction between the traitors who fought to destroy, and the heroes who battled to save the nation, never have and never can indorse the assertion that the loyal colored men of the South are to be protected in the rights of life, liberty, and free suffrage, guaranteed to them by the amended constitution and the express laws of the United States, only by the "letting alone" of the rebel whites, never have and never will indorse the appointment, as district attorneys and marshals, of rebel Democrats selected by Gen. John B. Gordon and other Southern Democratic leaders; never have and never will indorse deliberate failures to enforce federal laws, while Southern Republicans are malignantly persecuted, prosecuted, and wrongfully convicted and imprisoned, by the very Southern Democrats whose treasons, murders, and other political offences have been granted immunity, never can and never will indorse the public abasement of the United States flag, and the maintenance of an extra constitutional commission in the destruction of two legal State governments, and the setting up of revolutionary governments in their stead.

And yet, if the Journal interprets the platform aright, all these things they must indorse in order to stand upon the platform. That nothing of this kind was meant by any one who had to do with the construction of that platform we can safely assert. That it will bear no such construction is equally certain. Up to the meeting of the convention the sentiment was almost universal in favor of omitting all allusion to national matters further than to reaffirm the Cincinnati platform. But when the delegates gathered, it was found that a considerable number of influential Republicans who do not now, and never have indorsed the policies, were of the opinion that such omission would be construed as condemnation, and, consequently, be fatal to party success next March. As the assurance of victory was paramount with all, it soon became evident that in avoiding Scylla we must take especial care not to be wrecked on Charybdis. Hence the advocates of non-mention yielded, after long, patient, prayerful and anxious reflection, from this position, and consented to acknowledge the fact that there was an honest difference as to past acts; and also to say that if the President had performed the sincere or patriotic acts he was to be commended therefor. If he had not done so, then he was not commended. And to this position both sides finally converged and met.

Had the spirit shown by the Boston Journal in its comments found lodgment in that committee it could not have agreed, and disastrous consequences would have ensued. But no such spirit was shown, as we have already said. And we have pleasure in saying that Messrs. Moore of Nashua and Sturtevant of Keene, the two most pronounced upholders of the President's policy, took patriotic and conciliatory ground, and by their concessions rendered an agreement possible. Ex-Senator Patterson was also anxious for harmony, and contributed not a little to that end. Gov. Marston and Hon. L. D. Mason, very conservative, but both firm at the point of non-indorsement of the so-called policy, and by their firmness in this regard upheld the stalwart side in the controversy. Messrs. Baton, Young, Page and Evans favored a middle course, and were very jubilant over the agreement which was finally reached without any sacrifice of principle on either side, but through patriotic concessions touching methods on all sides.

And now, when "in the mingled spirit of these kindred virtues," the Republicans of New Hampshire are closing up their ranks for the coming battle, a hitherto friendly auxiliary, putting on the airs of a turkey-cock, and the complacency and unction of an Oily Gammon, insists that the order for this movement shall be construed in a way to disaffect the stalwart men, the color-guard, of the Republican host. The Journal must change its tactics and be more reasonable unless it is desirous of securing a Republican defeat in this State. Possibly it is animated by the belief that its course is as pleasing to the President as it is to the Bourbons, North and South. Unless, however, the former has changed his opinions as stated to the writer last summer, he will not be overjoyed with a championship which is exercised to the detriment of that party he professes still to regard with favor. Indeed, unless we greatly err in our estimate of the man, and unless it is true that he has broken away from the Republican party, he is more glad to know that unity has been preserved in the Republican party of New Hampshire by avoidance of indorsement of his policies, than he would have been by such indorsement, as he must be aware, if he knows anything at all about our people, that such indorsement would entail defeat at the polls. Thank heaven, we are united on common ground and against a common foe, whom we propose to thrash soundly next March.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of the First District, is receiving many compliments upon his first speech in the House, a terse and telling protest against the dishonesty and partisan malignity of the Democratic scandal bureau of last session. His remarks were upon the drag-net resolution of Fernando Wood, and although brief were full of point and very effectively delivered. Mr. Reed has the faculty of saying a great deal in a few effective words and he will prove a formidable antagonist in debate.

A correspondent of THE WHIG, writing of the old silver dollar, says:

"Very few of these coins ever went into circulation, because their intrinsic value measured by gold was greater than their face value."

And yet the silver which the Bland Bill proposes to remonetize, is precisely the same as that old silver dollar whose value was intrinsically greater than the gold dollar.—Commercial.

There is a sample of the sophistries so constantly employed by the inflation demagogues. So is the dollar greenback of to-day precisely the same as that of 1864, but the dollar greenback was worth but 35.08 cents in gold in July of that year, while it is worth 97.08 cents in gold to-day, or nearly three times as much as then. The silver dollar which was worth more than the gold dollar at the time referred to, is now worth but about 90 cents in gold, and that depreciation is the only cause that causes the demand for authority to force it upon creditors at par.

Senator Blaine was serenaded at Hot Springs, Arkansas, just before leaving for Washington, and in a brief speech of thanks, made this slight allusion to political questions: "I desire, gentlemen, also to express the very great satisfaction I have experienced in witnessing the harmony, friendship and cordiality that exist between the two races in your community. Perfect peace in the South will ever and only follow perfect justice. There is no man in the country who desires strife for the sake of strife, but there will always be strife so long as there is wrong. I believe that you set a great example to your entire State and I believe that in following it, Arkansas will share generally in the prosperity that you will have concentrated here."

THE BANGOR WHIG quoted a truthful article in relation to Wade Hampton, from the Boston Traveller and credited it to the Advertiser. It looked so strange to see so truthful an article on any Southern affair in the Advertiser, that a contemporary remarked it, which caused the WHIG to see and correct the mistake.—Machias Republican.

LITERARY NOTES.

"Something new in Magazine Literature—A Midwinter number of SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY. There is to be a Midwinter Number of SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY, to be issued January 25th. It will contain the usual attractions, in both the literary and pictorial way, and is to be further embellished by a notable frontispiece. The first will be a portrait of Abraham Lincoln from a drawing by Wyatt Eaton, engraved by Cole, and the second A Sonnet to Lincoln, by R. H. Stoddard, who wrote the famous Ode to Lincoln at the time of his assassination. The number will also contain some Reminiscences of Lincoln, by an intimate personal friend, which have been carefully copyrighted, and which it is thought, with the other attractions, will create an unprecedented demand for this midwinter number of SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY. The first edition will be 100,000 copies.

State Temperance Convention.

The several temperance organizations, the temperance workers, and all the friends of temperance in Maine, are invited to meet in mass convention at Granite Hall in Augusta, on Wednesday and Thursday, January 23d and 24th, commencing at 11 o'clock on Wednesday.

The temperance cause was never more prosperous in the State than now, for which we should be most profoundly grateful. Still there are important subjects which will demand our attention. Shall we ask for any change or amendments in the prohibitory law? Shall we protest against granting license to sell intoxicating liquors, to the druggists? Shall we ask for any more stringent penalties to be inflicted upon persons found intoxicated? These and other important questions will doubtless demand the action of the convention. It is hoped there will be a general rally. The usual reduction of fare on the railroads may be expected.

A Startling Situation—Germany and Italy Checking English Movements

NEW YORK Jan 14 A London special says a crisis in the East is near at hand The situation has become greatly complicated within the past few hours Italy and Germany has suddenly brought England face to face with a new issue more startling to her people than any event since the beginning of the war The unquestioned dominance of Russia in the field has forced England to order her fleet from Malta to its old anchorage in Besika Bay with the presumed intention of entering the Dardanelles at an early day Germany also has suddenly declared they have interests in the East as well as Great Britain, and perhaps Spain having a tolerable navy, may have something to say At any rate the action of the German and Italian Governments is unequivocal Bismarck's policy is made clearer. He is determined that England shall not perform acts really warlike unless she arrays herself as Russia's open enemy. She shall not go to Gallipoli as an active ally of the Turks The importance of the action of these two nations cannot be exaggerated This sudden reappearance of Italy as a Mediterranean power indicates that the Government of King Humbert I is disposed to assist Italy's claims to a controlling influence in Eastern politics A special from Constantinople says the Porte has acceded to the demands of Russia and has sent two Plenipotentiaries to the Russian headquarters fully empowered to treat for an armistice without any further reference to Constantinople.

Small Hope of an Armistice

LONDON, Jan 14. The impression is increasing here that armistice negotiations between Turkey and Russia will break down The terms are regarded as being too onerous

IRELAND

Reception of the Fenian Prisoners Chambers, McCarthy, O'Brien and Davitt in Dublin

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. A Dublin special says the recently liberated Fenian prisoners arrived in that city on Saturday night from London via Holyhead, and were made the subjects of a magnificent ovation. As the train arrived at the station of the Dublin and Kingstown Railway in Westland Row, they found an immense crowd, accompanied by bands of music and green and orange flags, awaiting their arrival. About 15,000 men were packed into an open space in front of the station, and thousands of torches were lit [illegible] the four prisoners, Chambers, McCarthy, O'Brien and Davitt stepped out of the train they were seized by a number of stalwart men and carried on the shoulders of the crowd to carriages As they emerged from the door of the railway station they were greeted with cheers, the bands struck up "God save Old Ireland," every hand [illegible] and the immense crowd sang the national air in chorus

An address of welcome was read to which one of the prisoners on behalf of his fellows replied, and a torch light procession then formed which wheeled out into Brunswick st and proceeded to the hotel where rooms were prepared for them As the procession advanced large numbers fell into line along the route, and there must have been 20 000 men in the procession while the streets along the line of march were packed with spectators who cheered lustily as the ex-prisoners passed. All Dublin [illegible] the streets and the demonstration was considered to have exceeded in numbers [illegible] [illegible] and political significance the funeral of John O'Mahony last year Twenty thousand people took part and the [illegible] order prevailed among the immense crowd Chambers and McCarthy [illegible] 12 years in prison O Brien, 11 and Davitt, a little over 7 years

TRUE ECONOMY is not in buying the lowest price articles The best is cheapest. So with the fine cultivated and plantation grown spices imported by Messrs. Pinckney, Jackson & Co., of London and New York. I have just received a shipment of these goods and would especially invite the attention of all consumers to them. These spices are not only absolutely pure, but are without a doubt the finest ever imported into this country. I confidently recommend them as being really of unusual merit.

He spoke very feelingly of the death of Miss Lydia Holmes, and paid a just tribute to her worth, both as a member of the church and a School, and also as a member of [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] Also mentioned the death of one other member of the school, Eddie Fraser, during the past year. IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician

N O [illegible] disease [illegible] more afflicting or harassing [illegible] the break up of the constitution [illegible] the sense of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice [illegible] more and more [illegible] destructive [illegible] The poison [illegible] throughout the system [illegible] every [illegible] and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted must in the great majority of cases effect a cure.

LETTER CARRIERS

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M. and from 4 to 5 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope on the face side will be complied with.
